Design for rural areas

Strategies

Require building design, building height and use of materials to reflect the natural and isolated state of French Island.

Encourage landscaping treatments to complement new developments and require landscaping to include plant species indigenous to French Island.